How to join

Joining ECLAS is a simple two stage process. Please become member now...

Fill in the membership form and send it to the ECLAS office (info\(at\)eclas.org), wait with payment of the membership fee until you receive an invoice from the treasurer.

The classes of membership are defined as follows. Each category attracts different benefits. These categories are as follows:

A. Full Institutional Membership

Any faculty, department, centre of teaching and research or other organisational unit within a higher education institution which undertakes teaching leading to the award of university degrees at levels of bachelor, master or both, or other equivalent qualification in the field of landscape architecture (which may include specialisations in landscape planning, design and/or management) and which may also carry out research leading to the award of doctoral degrees.

B. Associate Institutional Membership

Any faculty, department, centre of teaching and research or other organisational unit within a higher education institution which is involved in landscape teaching or research, but which does not award accredited degrees in landscape architecture (including planning, design and management) at bachelor, master or doctoral level.

C. Individual Membership

Any individual academic or practitioner with an interest in landscape architecture education, research or scholarship from anywhere in the world.
